

Worm Moon

Native Americans named each of the full moons they saw during the year and made up a story to go with each. March's full moon was given the name the Worm Moon because the March thaw brought earthworms to the soil's surface.